By connecting you to a collaborative logistics network of carriers, shippers, and customers, Kewill Transport automates your entire transportation management process.

This solution automates the entire order to cash process, enabling you to build the most efficient transportation plans by consolidating your orders into loads and assigning them to the best and most cost-effective mode of transportation. It allows you to accurately manage and analyze transportation performance and spend by measuring against network benchmarks to help you make better operational decisions.

Part of the Kewill MOVE[®] multimodal transportation management platform, Kewill Transport is deployed using pre-configured, standard templates that are designed to meet the needs of different types of logistics models.

Kewill Transport is designed to support logistics service providers who manage domestic and regional transportation of goods on behalf of their customers, or shippers and retailers who manage their own logistics operations.
